
"...after the dust of centuries has passed over our cities, we will be remembered not for victories or defeats in battle or in politics, but for our contribution to the human spirit."
NOVEMBER 29, 1962
John F. Kennedy